Official Tonamento Whitepaper

Tonamento is a decentralized gaming platform where players play a pivotal role in its economic cycle. Players own all assets, enabling them to buy, sell, or personally utilize various items. Tonamento continuously expands through new games and experiences, offering players opportunities to compete against others using their mental readiness and skills. By achieving higher ranks, players can earn a larger share of the final rewards.

The platform comprises 12 foundational games, selected from popular mini-games worldwide. Participation in all games is tournament-based, with players competing in 4-5 and 8-player tournaments.

Community & Economy

Tonamento is a gaming platform that creates an environment for players to compete and earn revenue. Developers can easily create and share their games on Tonamento, making them accessible to all users. Committed to Web3 principles, Tonamento prioritizes users as the most crucial members of any community. Accordingly, we have designed a weekly competition segment, allocating a portion of the platform's revenue as prizes to appreciate our community members weekly.

A key distinction between Tonamento and the first generation of P2E (Play to Earn) is that Tonamento's algorithm is designed to offer users not just a pleasurable gaming experience but also a sustainable and reliable income. Another revenue stream in Tonamento involves NFTs, which players can earn during games and trade in the market.

Mission

We aim to provide a platform offering amazing gaming experiences, social networking for gamers, and revenue generation to all crypto users and gamers. By doing so, we introduce a unique experience of Web3 philosophy to internet users. Tonamento is a global digital community where people worldwide can gather without restrictions, enjoy equal competitive conditions created by Web3, and engage in friendly interactions with others.
